AE
Special !

A group of adult learners at any level will contain a very diverse mix of ability, experience and motivation. How do you create a stimulating environment where all learners are involved and making progress?

This session will focus on differentiated tasks for learners within the same group and also on activities where learners at significantly different levels can work together in meaningful and interesting ways. There will be a particular emphasis on encouraging learners to speak.

Pauline Swanton is an experienced AE teacher of languages, a former NATIONAL President of ALL and the Chair of the ALL AE Special Interest Group.
