Workshop A.1 Active Learning in the classroom - Greg Horton

This session will aim to show how language learning can be an inherently active and dynamic experience. Come and explore a range of tried-and-tested ideas which really get body and brain working in unison

Workshop A.2 Languages:Reboot – Chris Harte

Assistant Head for Personalisation at Cramlington Learning Village, former AST in primary languages and a National Teaching Awards winner in 2004.

"Languages: Reboot –Chris will look at our own practice and ensure that effective teaching leads to and is informed by effective learning. He will question the way we assess and how we can develop more independent learning and the role technology has in developing confident and effective linguists.

Workshop A.3 Creative ideas for post-16 languages- Chris Fuller

Former SSAT Lead Practitioner and now freelance consultant, Chris will be exploring ways to ensure that the fun and stimulation don't end when our students arrive in our post-16 classrooms. Ranging from creating the frameworks for your course to developing independence, from using ICT to just having fun the session will focus on practical steps to increase KS5 learning.

Workshop A.4 Preparing students for the Controlled Assessments – Norton Hill Languages

Emma Phillips, Emily Burton & Tom Hockaday, MFL Teachers, Norton Hill School, Somerset

Most MFL departments are still getting to grips with the new style assessments at GCSE and how best to prepare students for success. This workshop will explore classroom activities and independent learning strategies designed to give students the skills and knowledge they need to achieve the top grades.

Workshop Session B (12.00 – 13.00)

Workshop B.1 : Active Learning in the classroom - Greg Horton

Greg Horton's Keynote address:

Developing spontaneous talk in the languages classroom

Greg Horton is an experienced Advanced Skills Teacher at Wildern School, the biggest 11-16 comprehensive school in Hampshire. He is currently enjoying his fifth year as an SSAT Lead Practitioner.

Greg's particular areas of expertise are: spontaneous talk, active learning and raising boys' achievement in languages. His multi-award-winning Group Talk project has been successfully adopted by numerous schools across the country and teachers speak enthusiastically about its impact on learner motivation and attainment.

In this session, Greg will share his idea in an interactive session during which he will explore some practical ideas with delegates
