Workshop A.1 Wendy Adenijii Using phonics to improve Pronunciation

Teach your pupils how to pronounce French, Spanish and German accurately and make the sound-spelling link! Suitable for all KS3 and 4 teachers, this technique fits in well with all Schemes of Work, and covers all the most difficult vowel sounds, consonants and graphemes in French, Spanish and German using a mixture of games, listening and speaking activities.

Workshop A.2 Juliet Park Micro skills development in language learning

Reading, writing, speaking and listening are all important language skills for ensuring effective communication in a foreign language. This session will take a closer look at examples of techniques such as speed reading, correction coding, language analysis for developing the micro-skills in each of these areas and boost literacy skills amongst your MFL learners. The session will also look at 'blended' learning and how remote support online via activities and tutorial provision can further enhance performance in the controlled assessments.

Workshop A.3: Charlie Berney Just stuff...!

Charlie has always practised 'Lively Learning', believing in creating activities which keep the MFL classroom a busy and productive learning environment. If you are reading this, you are of the same mind as she is, that we MFL teachers never stop wanting to learn. This workshop is a collection of ideas and activities she has seen / developed in the last couple of years. An interactive session with take-away resources in French and German.

Workshop A.4: Peter Spain DIY CPD Workshop

With Academies, Free Schools and Training Schools Alliances and reduced Local Authorities, schools must find their own way. Where do language departments go for training / CPD?

The workshop will look at what is available online and how to manage CPD within institutions / consortia of schools and colleges. A practical look at some new resources from CiLT / CfBT, web resources and how to lead successful CPD.
