

!!! FREE CPD ALERT WITH ALL TEESSIDE!!!

‘Professeur, soyez plus drôle!’

Twilight Thursday 3rd July 2014

I'm delighted to announce the re-launch of ALL Teesside at Freebrough Academy with our very special guest, Sue Balmer.

Sue Balmer has had over 35 years' experience as a classroom teacher of languages. She worked as an Advanced Skills Teacher in Newcastle upon Tyne and joined the Specialist Schools and Academies Trust as National Specialism Coordinator in 2003. Since 2006 she has worked as an adviser and trainer in immersion courses in France. She is also back in the classroom, which is where she prefers to be. She is passionate about music and can see no finer way of teaching languages and intercultural understanding than through song.

The purpose of this workshop will be to bring together colleagues to discover songs by Stromae and others to enrich language learning for primary, secondary and yourselves. You will discover which songs to choose, where to find them, ideas on how to use them and why you should always have songs in your Scheme of Work. The ideas shared in this workshop will fully support the changes to the new languages curriculum at KS3.

The workshop will be delivered in English; examples will be in French and Spanish but ideas are always easily adaptable to other languages. Where time permits, other examples of engaging resources and activities will be shared.

Pearson Education will once again be kindly sponsoring this event offering a prize draw at the end of the session to attendees for a year's free subscription of Active Learn in any language of the winner's choice.

Here is the programme for the 26th:

16:15 – 16:25 Refreshments sponsored by Pearson Education and chance to mix with colleagues.

16:25 – 16:30 - Welcome to ALL Teesside: Issac Greaves, Assistant Director of Learning: Business and Enterprise and Modern Foreign Languages at Freebrough Academy.

16:30 – 17:45 - Professeur, soyez plus drôle!: Sue Balmer, adviser and trainer in immersion courses in France.

17:45– 18:00 - Resources show and tell. Please bring copies of any resources you are happy to share relating to culture in the classroom and discuss for a couple of minutes.

Event to be hosted at:

The post-16 enterprise centre (ground floor), Freebrough Academy, Linden Road, Brotton, Saltburn-by-the-sea, TS12 2SJ

Parking is right in front of the building as you enter on Linden Road.

Contact Issac at allmiddlesbrough@gmail.com

Twitter @issacgreaves or @ALLTeesside

Also feel free to forward on this event to any other colleagues, which may be interested in this free event.

I look forward to seeing/hearing from you!