

Special Interest Group for World Languages

Further resources:

Weblinks:

BBC Languages

www.bbc.co.uk/languages/

BBC learning Zone Class Clips

www.bbc.co.uk/learningzone/clips/eLanguages

www.elanguages.org/

Keep your Language Alive

www.southwarkpct.nhs.uk/keepyourlanguagealive

Language Box

<http://languagebox.ac.uk/>

The Language Investigator

www.language-investigator.co.uk/

Language of the Month

www.newburypark.redbridge.sch.uk/langofmonth/

Linguanet Worldwide

Originally known as Linguanet Europa, this project has undergone expansion to incorporate an interface in a number of new languages and addresses in particular the needs of adult learners and independent learners. The site includes advice on ways of assessing and improving one's current ability in different languages (including links to websites that offer diagnostic and placement tests), communicating electronically with other language learners and finding appropriate resources:

www.linguanet-worldwide.org/

The linguistic and educational integration of children and adolescents from migrant backgrounds (Council of Europe, 2010)

Concept paper and set of studies and resources focussing on integration and education of children and adolescents from migrant backgrounds in Council of Europe member states.

Studies and Resources No.5 includes annotated list of websites.

www.coe.int/t/dg4/linguistic/ListDocs_Geneva2010.asp

Multilingual Family

www.multilingualfamily.org.uk/

Multilingual Learning (Goldsmiths, University of London)

www.gold.ac.uk/clcl/multilingual-learning/

Multilingual Nation

www.bbc.co.uk/voices/multilingual/

Poems for One World

www.poemsfor.org/publicsite/

Primary Languages

Includes curriculum models and leaflets for primary schools to use with parents to help promote languages

www.primarylanguages.org.uk/home.aspx

Startalk

US based site focussing on the teaching and learning of Arabic, Chinese, Dari, Hindi, Persian, Portuguese, Russian, Swahili, Turkish, and Urdu. Aims to share information on implementing programs as well as to share resources on curriculum design, instructional materials, assessment tools, and useful links.

<http://startalk.umd.edu/>

