Rosie Goldsmith & Larry Lamb: Head to head: Rosie Goldsmith interviews Larry Lamb

Rosie Goldsmith is a journalist specialising in arts and current affairs, in the UK and abroad. Over 20 years', whilst working for the BBC, she has travelled the world: from Libya to Japan to East Timor. Rosie has covered events such as the fall of the Berlin Wall, the end of apartheid in South Africa, and human rights in Egypt. She's presented flagship BBC radio shows like Front Row, Open Book, Profile, A World In Your Ear and Crossing Continents. She speaks French, German, and Italian, and has lived for many years in Europe, Africa and the USA. Today Rosie also combines broadcasting, reviewing, media training and PR with curating and chairing related events in Britain and overseas. In addition, Rosie is passionate about foreign literature and language learning - she promotes them wherever she can. (And she likes to wear red shoes!)
