Language World

Why should Language World be in your event schedule for 2014?

- This is the annual Conference and Exhibition of the Association for Language Learning - the major subject association for those involved in teaching foreign languages at all levels.
- Every year the Conference addresses the key issues facing teaching professionals and as a consequence attracts high calibre, enthusiastic, focussed delegates – your potential customers, looking to source the latest products and services available.
- Language World has been sold out for the past few years – a clear reflection of its position as the event with a track record of delivering the contacts you want for your business.
- Exhibiting at Language World gives you the opportunity to promote, sell, display, and demonstrate your products and services to language professionals.

Who exhibits at Language World?

- Language resources providers
- Training providers
- Travel companies
- Examination boards
- Professional organisations
- Cultural Institutes
- Companies which provide advice and support for language teachers

Amongst our 2013 exhibitors were: AQA, Brilliant Publications, Cambridge International Examinations, CfBT Education Trust, Discovery Language, Edexcel, Goethe-Institut London, Language Education and Partnerships Ltd, Network for Languages, OCR, Oxford University Press, Pearson, Routes into Languages, Sanako, Teachit Languages, Televic Education, UK German Connection and Vocab Express – a ringing endorsement of a well-established, successful event organised by the Association of Language Learning!

- Language World Conference delegates and Exhibition visitors are:
- Educationalists involved in language teaching from every sector of education: Early Years; Primary; Secondary; FE; HE; Vocational and Adult Education; Teacher Trainers
- Language professionals including heads of department, advisers, lecturers, teacher trainers and teachers

The key themes for Language World 2014 are:

- Challenges raised by the new curriculum
- Primary, in particular links between languages and the wider primary curriculum
- Language across the curriculum – holistic approaches to mother tongue, foreign language learning and literacy
- KS2-3 transition
- Progression 7-14
- Classroom talk/interaction
- KS3, KS4, KS5
- CLIL approaches
- Innovative use of technology
- Special educational needs
- Language learning for disadvantaged groups
- HE - in particular collaborative initiatives in languages education between universities and schools
- Research based practice – action research in schools and research in HE
- Languages in adult education

“As a head of department the whole conference and exhibition helped me come up with ideas to take my department forward.”

The Promotional Campaign

ALL manage all the marketing activities which promote both the Conference and Exhibition to all their members throughout the UK. The extensive campaign encompasses print and digital media:

- ALLNet: ALL's e-bulletin which goes out to around 3,500 language teachers and teaching professionals every week during term time
- Languages Today: ALL's termly magazine with a print run of 3,000, which goes out to ALL members and is also distributed at events around the country
- ALL website: which gets between 4,000 – 6,000 unique visitors per month: <http://tiny.cc/LW2014>
- Facebook: where ALL has over 2,500 fans: <http://www.facebook.com/alllanguages.org.uk>
- Twitter: where ALL has circa 1000 followers - #LW2014

“As a global supplier and market leader of language laboratory software systems we attend many exhibitions around the country, many of which are more expensive to attend than Language World. However, it is Language World which is always on top of our exhibition priority list. The organisers truly understand the balance between seminar time for delegates and exhibition viewing time for suppliers ensuring all parties are happy. It has always been a very fruitful event for Sanako UK and I am sure this trend will continue in the future.”

“After exhibiting at Language World over the last two years we now regard it as the primary conference in our event’s calendar. We appreciate the thoughtful planning that takes place as well as the assistance we receive during the event. As the event attracts large numbers of influential and key figures from the language world, we have been able to make good contacts with the people that really matter, all within a very supportive and friendly atmosphere. It goes without saying that we will be attending again in 2014.”
