

Making a good start - an ALL webinar for NQTs about to start their career

25 August 2020

Steven Fawkes and Helen Myers, supported by members of ALL Council and ITET forum, welcomed some 130+ MFL NQTs (and other teachers) to the ALL 'Making a Good Start' webinar – with main input from Verónica González Otero, a teacher from Newcastle, on thinking ahead, organisation, practical tips and ideas, and of course stationary ! There was also major sharing from participants ! The event took place in the ALL London Zoom room and produced an idea for potential future events for NQTs, of which news will follow.

The recording is here : <http://www.all-london.org.uk/site/index.php/making-a-good-start-an-all-august-webinar-for-nqts/> along with links to resources and extracts of the Chat.

Previous webinars are archived here : <http://www.all-london.org.uk/site/index.php/webinars/>

This is the ALL NQT page : <https://www.all-languages.org.uk/student/starting-out/> where you will find, along with blogs and other resources, a document called ' ALL as your Language teaching career begins' which lists some resources ALL hosts that may well be of particular interest.

This is the ALL Joining page: <https://www.all-languages.org.uk/join/>

Thanks to all who joined in !

Some extracts from the Chat

From Verónica González-Otero to Everyone: 07:56 PM

Welcome to everyone!

From David Shanks to Everyone: 07:56 PM

If you are on twitter for teaching, please do follow @All4Language, @ALLLondon007 and get involved with the #mfltwitterati :)

From Inés Molina to Everyone: 08:03 PM

Hello! I'm Inés :) I will start a PGCE (Spanish and French) in September this year, but I am here to know more about what to expect from my NQT year

From David Shanks to Everyone: 08:09 PM

For those who aren't yet members, the join ALL link is <https://www.all-languages.org.uk/join/> There you can see a list of all the many benefits of joining ALL and your discount code is WEBINAR10

From Me to Everyone: 08:09 PM

Looking forward to:

Meeting my pupils

Coloured pens clearly

contact with pupils

meeting my classes

Having my own classes and building relationships with students

Teaching again

Being back in front of a class and getting to know the pupils

Being back in school and teach students in person

going back to teach in person

Going back to work

Rapport with pupils

My own classes

knowing what day it is again

Having my own classes and autonomy working and escaping the house

Meeting 'my' classes (and not being observed all the time)

Doing a couple of relaxing activities building relationships with the students from the very beginning teaching face to face

getting outside of the house

Meeting everyone and using my stationery

Teaching face-to-face and shiny new stationery :)

meeting everyone: students and new colleagues

Having more of those moments that make you smile!

making new work friends

Also - time to prioritise teaching and little/no(!) summer data analysis

From Judith Rifesser to Everyone: 08:17 PM

Such an important point, Verónica, to never be afraid to ask questions, to ask for help, and to check things.

From Me to Everyone: 08:22 PM

Routines are so important

From Helen Myers to Everyone: 08:23 PM

Good idea not to make a fuss about not having a book - just give out paper!

From Mercedes Antrobus to Everyone: 08:23 PM

My school gave us a planner with parents evenings and training days already noted in them

From David Shanks to Everyone: 08:23 PM

Even well-intentioned questions can be disruptive - "3B Before Me" can work nicely to develop independence - students must first use BRAIN, BOOK, BUDDY - BEFORE asking the teacher a question

From Charlotte G to Everyone: 08:23 PM

I didn't think we were allowed to give out stationery - is that right?

From Mercedes Antrobus to Everyone: 08:24 PM

That's what we've been told, but we can use whiteboards as long as we wipe them down

From Karin Jaschke to Everyone: 08:24 PM

We'll have a very strict 'materials' regime - nothing to be kept on window sills or desks, cupboards. No sharing between years of equipment.

From Fran Taylor to Everyone: 08:24 PM

Elephant in the room - social distancing! We can't have a bunch of kids coming up to grab various resources all at the same time, can we?

From Mercedes Antrobus to Everyone: 08:26 PM

I understand the handing out of resources like paper are okay, but no pen sharing. The biggest challenge is I think most of us won't have our own classrooms

From Glennis Pye to Everyone: 08:26 PM

As far as I can tell from speaking to colleagues from a range of schools, there will be differences from school to school in terms of what's allowed and what isn't.

From Lissa Cook to Everyone: 08:26 PM

I can't cope with a paper planner. I've created an Excel spreadsheet so I can see the whole half-term on one sheet. I then just use my planner for notes. Happy to show the spreadsheet at the end if that's helpful.

From Charlotte G to Everyone: 08:27 PM

I like this idea - I am a spreadsheet nerd

From Céleste Robillard to Everyone: 08:27 PM

Oh Mr Wonderful I love this

From Ricardo Lampérez to Everyone: 08:28 PM

Haha I'm Spanish too and Mr wonderful planners are just the best!

From Helen Myers to Everyone: 08:28 PM

Mr Wonderful is a revelation to me tonight

From jen parque to Everyone: 08:28 PM

post it in the planner, what a great idea!

From Céleste Robillard to Everyone: 08:28 PM

The good thing with Mr Wonderful is that they do stuff in French as well

From Me to Everyone: 08:29 PM

Important people in school - not just pupils and teachers. Make friends with the caretakers, cleaners and cooks!

From Jennifer Eddy to Everyone: 08:31 PM

YES! Please make friends with all offices...especially anyone that keeps the keys! You never know if you need equipment and something important your need is behind a locked door! They have saved me many times!

From Judith Rifesser to Everyone: 08:32 PM

Fully agree. Say hello and introduce yourself to everyone in your school. It will put a smile on your face and theirs.

From Ricardo Lampérez to Everyone: 08:31 PM

What an amazing job Verónica

From Lissa Cook to Everyone: 08:31 PM

I am a stamp addict. It's amazing how even Year 10 will love it if you go round and put a smily dinosaur on their books when they're working well. (Obviously this will depend on social distancing as this may not be possible in all schools this year but you don't need to touch their books to do it so I'm hoping I can still use them)

From Me to Everyone: 08:31 PM

Pimp your planner ! A good activity in the Target Language !

From Ricardo Lampérez to Everyone: 08:32 PM

Great idea Steven!

From Glennis Pye to Everyone: 08:34 PM

I think it's still really important and useful also to think about the things we can do when we're not in times of social distancing. And the funny moments too!

From me to everyone : Whatever format you choose, create a place to keep your Golden Moments – things that people say or do that make you feel good – and keep it up-to-date. Then you a look in thee on the days when you are not feeling so great!

From Helen Myers to Everyone: 08:34 PM

Golden moments - a lovely idea!

From Hannah Daisy Joy to Everyone: 08:34 PM

Great idea!

From David Shanks to Everyone: 08:34 PM

Yes! Totally agree Steven. One of the best pieces advice I ever got - have a positive feedback folder in my email and also the teachers drawer

From Helen Myers to Everyone: 08:35 PM

Nice to have a school 'good news box'

From Judith Rifesser to Everyone: 08:35 PM

That is so true, Steven. I have a special folder for "nice words". I also keep a "treasure box" with post-its and feedback given, cards from students and pupils etc.

From Jennifer Eddy to Everyone: 08:35 PM

Fabulous idea. Lovely. Everyone has amazing days and not so terrific. Those golden moments keep you focused and moving forward! :)

From David Shanks to Everyone: 08:46 PM

One thing to consider whatever your system - it can be useful to have parts of it visible to students e.g. you are visibly seen to be recording homework, merits, sanctions, lates - students SEEING you keeping a track can be powerful

From Lissa Cook to Everyone: 08:48 PM

Here's a download link to the excel spreadsheet planner: https://tytheringtonsch-my.sharepoint.com/:x:/g/personal/lcook_tytheringtonschool_co_uk/ETGN_bFqhpdHtW5FnWPfuCoBsalDOfxKJ7sRGre5cPkqqQ?e=a2oCA9

From David Shanks to Everyone: 08:49 PM

The slide template is available here: <https://www.slidescarnival.com/ely-free-presentation-template/4761#preview>

From Lissa Cook to Everyone: 08:49 PM

Other top tips: Have a 4-way Bic Biro that you can hang off your lanyard so you always have your own pen (as Veronica says so you don't have to use spit covered student ones!)

From Me to Everyone: 08:50 PM

Lanyard pens are a standard freebie at Conferences!

From Lissa Cook to Everyone: 08:50 PM

Another top tip: Buy a clicker so you can walk around the classroom and still move your Powerpoint. The laserpointer is also really helpful. It's great to be able to move near a student who's misbehaving and teach while standing right next to them

From George Johnstone to Everyone: 08:51 PM

I agree. Having a clicker to move on powerpoint slides was a big help.

From George Johnstone to Everyone: 08:54 PM

Good point Verónica. A clear seating plan organizational system is very useful when first meeting a class!

From Helen Myers to Everyone: 08:54 PM

My 'bible' for classroom management back in 1982 (!) was Michael Marland's 'Craft of the Classroom' .. seating plans key to show whose room it is and avoid complaints if ever you move students (as the original was not the seat they chose)

From Ann-Gaëlle Cox to Everyone: 08:57 PM

Craft of the Classroom is still available (2nd hand)!

From Lissa Cook to Everyone: 08:57 PM

I agree - regular ringing of parents is really important. And it's a lovely thing to do for positive praise. It really lifts your day when you ring and you have something lovely to say it makes you feel brilliant.

From David Shanks to Everyone: 08:57 PM

Agree Helen - tacitly establishes "my room my rules". I've found Bill Rogers great for behaviour, routines, expectations etc

From Lissa Cook to Everyone: 08:57 PM

@David I agree Bill Rogers is my bible. I reread the book and re-watch the videos. They are like teacher meditation!

From Judith Rifesser to Everyone: 09:01 PM

Bill Roger's videos are great. Also, I was once given the advice to ring each parent from my form class to introduce myself and say something positive about their child. It was amazing to hear their responses. They were so surprised to receive a positive call. I feel it helped me have the parents on my side for further down the line when issues arose.

From Helen Myers to Everyone: 09:04 PM

Bill Rogers Playlist on YouTube:

https://www.youtube.com/playlist?list=PLF1FBp_bi4gbXAvyDu1oO5o_LaJ6PufZm

From Grace Bentham to Everyone: 08:58 PM

What would be your advice on how to seat students? Expecting it to be trial and error but any insights into how you do this for classes for the first time, where you don't know the students at all yet?

From Helen Myers to Everyone: 08:59 PM

Alphabetical boy/girl .. but those who are more likely to be distracted / distracting strategically placed [ask colleagues about pupils. show HOD your plan and they can suggest changes]

From Lissa Cook to Everyone: 09:04 PM

For seating, I have a Powerpoint seating plan. I have a hidden sheet with their SEN and Target grades and other needs so I can remind myself of who is Pupil Premium, ADHD, anxious etc. I have a sheet per class so I can have it on the board. Each student's name is in a little box so I can shuffle them round as I get to know them and work out the best seating plan over the year.

From Lissa Cook to Everyone: 09:13 PM

Here's my Powerpoint seating planner: https://tytheringtonsch-my.sharepoint.com/:p/g/personal/lcook_tytheringtonschool_co_uk/ESCd62wdk6NDpwkY3HXQY-kB6bVKLDtr4ozGC6-6AUBymw?e=XyhJvc

From Lissa Cook to Everyone: 09:00 PM

Top tip for name remembering: I have a reward sheet on the board with all their names in alphabetical order. Tick for each contribution. 3 ticks is HP. Then I can add it to SIMS (our behaviour management system). It really helps me a) to remember their names and b) to keep an eye on who is contributing. My students know I start asking questions to students who don't put their hand up (this of course depends on anxiety levels & I don't pick on people in a nasty way)

From mariana hood to Everyone: 09:03 PM

veronica is amazing! thank you

From Crista Hazell (ALL) to Everyone: 09:05 PM

So many brilliant ideas here Verónica et al - a fab webinar that will help so many teachers, not just NQTs and RQTs either! Thank you for this evening.

From Judith Rifesser to Everyone: 09:06 PM

I fully second that, Crista. Thank you ever so much, Verónica. So many useful and creative ideas and tips. Thanks so much.

From Helen Myers to Everyone: 09:06 PM

Agreed Crista! And reminding me of things I used to do and have forgotten to do! Page numbering a really good idea

From Me to Everyone: 09:03 PM

Nice feedback is important to everyone :)

From Judith Rifesser to Everyone: 09:07 PM

Thank you also so much to each and everyone who shared invaluable ideas and advice here.

From Helen Myers to Everyone: 09:09 PM

Such an attractive presentation .. Veronica will share her source with us!

From Verónica González-Otero to Everyone: 08:46 PM

SlidesCarnival– templates for PowerPoint Presentations

From Luisa Fernanda Pinzon Garzon to Everyone: 08:46 PM

Thank you very much!

From Glennis Pye to Everyone: 09:10 PM

Yes and I love your Bitmoji too Veronica!

From Me to Everyone: 09:05 PM

ALL is also collating something on COVID Awareness - look at Home Page of website - all contributions welcome!

From Céleste Robillard to Everyone: 09:05 PM

https://www.amazon.co.uk/gp/product/B00UTADHO2/ref=ppx_yo_dt_b_asin_title_o01_s00?ie=UTF8&psc=1 my clicker

From Glennis Pye to Everyone: 09:06 PM

My clicker is Knorvay and it's very good - also pretty cheap I seem to remember! Def one of my favourite pieces of equipment!

From Céleste Robillard to Everyone: 09:07 PM

Tip for the clicker: always have a spare battery with it in your bag

From Lissa Cook to Everyone: 09:08 PM

This clicker has never failed on me and yes always have spare batteries for everything!

https://www.amazon.co.uk/gp/product/B01ESL4Q0Q/ref=ppx_yo_dt_b_search_asin_title?ie=UTF8&psc=1

From George Johnstone to Everyone: 09:06 PM

I enjoy meeting the students at the door as well. It is important to think about is your position as it is good to be able to see what is going on both inside and outside the classroom during this process.

From Bracken Brown to Everyone: 09:10 PM

My mentor had a tree stamp with light green ink and would stamp any gaps in books, then students knew to go back and use the 'green tree spaces' for DIRT etc.

From Lissa Cook to Everyone: 09:10 PM

Love the green tree stamp idea

From Me to Everyone: 09:10 PM

They don't expect you to remember their names when you meet them 20 years later either :)

From Me to Everyone: 09:12 PM

Very important to keep yourself motivated

From Glennis Pye to Everyone: 09:13 PM

Yes - sooooo important to remember your wellbeing too and that of your students too!

From David Shanks to Everyone: 09:16 PM

Thanks so much Veronica:) Here is a little blog post of some alternative back-to-school ideas you might find interesting <https://educationblog.oup.com/secondary/mfl/an-alternative-back-to-school-list-for-mfl-teachers-7-ideas-by-david-shanks>

From Karin Jaschke to Everyone: 09:36 PM

Could you not perhaps run a 'lightly' themed session every week, like a drop in meeting where we can exchange experiences and ask questions?

ALL volunteers are exploring this possibility

Lots of thank yous followed , of which a sample here – there is more discussion in the post-event chat below

From Judith Rifesser 09:10 PM

Just a brief note to say thank you so much for hosting such a great webinar. It is not only useful for those here but also as a great resource for those who couldn't join today. Lovely to see you, as always.

From Grace Bentham to Everyone: 09:13 PM

So helpful and reassuring - thank you Verónica and everyone for your advice :)

From Carolina Mondéjar to Everyone: 09:13 PM

Thank you so much, Verónica! :) Amazing ideas!

From Justine Gilberte to Everyone: 09:13 PM

Thank you so much for your presentation Veronica!

From Gili Berman to Everyone: 09:13 PM

Thank you so much! Wonderful!

From Bracken Brown to Everyone: 09:13 PM

Thank you, that was brilliant :)

From Manon Atangana to Everyone: 09:13 PM

Thank you so much, that was so useful!!

From Anwen Roys to Everyone: 09:13 PM

Thank you so much, this was amazing

From Oria Zehouane to Everyone: 09:13 PM

thank you, it was a brilliant presentation

From Kelly Stuck to Everyone: 09:13 PM

Thank you - really useful!

From David Shanks to Everyone: 09:13 PM

Brilliant presentation Veronica, many thanks :)

From Helen Myers to Everyone: 09:13 PM

Thanks so much Veronica.. so many ideas for teachers at any stage

From Christine De Oliveira to Everyone: 09:13 PM

it was great! many many thanks!

From StephB to Everyone: 09:13 PM

Thank you so much and well done on this very useful presentation! You smashed it Veronica!!

From Caroline Martel to Everyone: 09:13 PM

Thank you so much! it was amazing

From Lissa Cook to Everyone: 09:13 PM

That was great - it is a brilliant job!

From isabelle hems to Everyone: 09:14 PM

Thanks Veronica for sharing your approach and your great suggestions! Great presentation! And thanks to ALL for organising the webinar

From Elina Flochon to Everyone: 09:14 PM

Thank you Veronica for sharing your ideas, very useful!

From Alice to Everyone: 09:14 PM

This has been so nice to get back thinking of school again, and reduced my anxiety so much! Great presentation Veronica, thank you

From Ann-Gaëlle Cox to Everyone: 09:14 PM

Thank you Veronica, very helpful!

From Beth Keegan to Everyone: 09:14 PM

That was great - thank you :)

From Ruby Smith to Everyone: 09:14 PM

Thank you so much, it's been brilliant

From Marion Leroux to Everyone: 09:14 PM

Thank you so much for this, I've learnt a lot !!

From Danielle Fawcett-Walsh to Everyone: 09:14 PM

SO many great tips, thank you!!

From Marc Guffick to Everyone: 09:14 PM

Great presentation. Thanks so much!

From Émilie Gillet to Everyone: 09:14 PM

It was an amazing presentation, ¡muchas gracias Veronica!

From Inés Molina to Everyone: 09:14 PM

Muchas gracias, Verónica!! Me ha encantado :)

From samia saci to Everyone: 09:14 PM

it has been very informative

From Judith Rifesser to Everyone: 09:14 PM

Thank you so much, Verónica. What a brilliant and positive webinar packed with lots and lots ideas.

From Martin Bever to Everyone: 09:14 PM

Thank you very much. Really useful.

From Judith Rifesser to Everyone: 09:15 PM

Keep up the amazing work.

From Glennis Pye to Everyone: 09:15 PM

Great stuff Veronica!

From Ruta Dulbinska to Everyone: 09:15 PM

Excellent! It was a pleasure listening to you!

Post-event

From David Shanks to Everyone: 09:16 PM

Thanks so much Veronica:) Here is a little blog post of some alternative back-to-school ideas you might find interesting <https://educationblog.oup.com/secondary/mfl/an-alternative-back-to-school-list-for-mfl-teachers-7-ideas-by-david-shanks>

From Hannah to Everyone: 09:17 PM

I love your positivity!

From Jennifer Eddy to Everyone: 09:19 PM

Brilliant, yes they remember cultural pieces. They make the learning so meaningful and relevant to them.

From Marion Leroux to Everyone: 09:23 PM

We've done this training year to be here, so hang on and live it to the fullest!

From Christine De Oliveira to Everyone: 09:24 PM

thank you to all participants and speakers

Let's continue to celebrate and promote languages, language learning, language teaching and all the languages we all speak, in school, at home, wherever we go (physically and virtually)

From Marion Leroux to Everyone: 09:26 PM

I have a question for Veronica if possible

From Marion Leroux to Everyone: 09:27 PM

I am a French native speaker, and I've learnt Spanish before, and I was asked to teach only Spanish, so I was wondering if you had some advice

From isabelle hems to Everyone: 09:27 PM

Watching boxsets in TL on Netflix is great to help maintaining your languages

From Marion Leroux to Everyone: 09:28 PM

I've been learning Spanish for like 10 years, is that enough ?

From Lissa Cook to Everyone: 09:28 PM

Yes - seriously, I started learning Spanish in 2018 and did my A-level last year.

From Céleste Robillard to Everyone: 09:28 PM

I'm sure you will be fine Marion, I have the same experience as you and I am fine teaching Spanish

From Glennis Pye to Everyone: 09:28 PM

I also believe that in some ways teaching a language which is not your native language is easier!

From Céleste Robillard to Everyone: 09:28 PM

You will always know more than them

From David Shanks to Everyone: 09:29 PM

A few years back I did Spanish GCSE alongside my GCSE French class, modelled my exam prep, sat it in the hall with the students :)

From Verónica González-Otero to Everyone: 09:29 PM

Wordreference.com

From Lissa Cook to Everyone: 09:29 PM

Fine someone in your department to practice with (or it might have to be someone outside of school). Swap your French skills

From MICHAELA to Everyone: 09:29 PM

I use these https://www.amazon.co.uk/New-Grade-9-1-GCSE-Spanish/dp/178908458X/ref=sr_1_1?dchild=1&keywords=cgp+aq+flashcards+spanish&qid=1598387339&sr=8-1

From Marion Leroux to Everyone: 09:29 PM

Thank you so much for all this !!!

From Judith Rifesser to Everyone: 09:29 PM

So true to share your own language learning. You might also like to get pupils to teach you phrases in their home languages. It helps them build confidence and shows them that you value the languages they know. Include extra lines in knowledge organisers/glossaries etc. for their home languages as well.

From Marion Leroux to Everyone: 09:29 PM

You are awesome !!

From MICHAELA to Everyone: 09:29 PM

From Fran Taylor to Everyone: 09:30 PM

I'm learning Spanish and hope to teach it alongside Fr & Ger one day.
10 years is great!

From Pilar to Everyone: 09:30 PM

I do Spanish and German and been asked to teach Y7 French too. I am very nervous about it!

From Marion Leroux to Everyone: 09:32 PM

Thank you so much Veronica, this is excellent advice !

From Lissa Cook to Everyone: 09:32 PM

I have this quote stuck to my computer from a David Sedaris book: Teaching leaves you with a constant feeling of deceiving people, that you know nothing they don't or couldn't learn on their own if they cared to."

From Lissa Cook to Everyone: 09:32 PM

Teachers are super lovely people and love helping and supporting. People with want to share lessons and resources with you.

From Bracken Brown to Everyone: 09:33 PM

That's reassuring, my degree is in German and Religion but I have a job teaching German and French, which I hadn't studied/ practised since A level, so thank you for the advice and reassurance :)

From samia saci to Everyone: 09:33 PM

Coffee Break Spanish podcasts are very useful I found

From Lissa Cook to Everyone: 09:33 PM

Try and have at least one night a week where you don't do any work after the school day

From Céleste Robillard to Everyone: 09:33 PM

Also join Twitter if you haven't as a lot of people are sharing resources on there!

From Jennifer Eddy to Everyone: 09:35 PM

Thank you again Veronica and ALL and for this webinar and Best of luck to everyone! It's wonderful to see so many new language teachers for our profession! Take care always, Dr. Jennifer Eddy, Queens College, City University of New York. @WorldLanguageEd

From Marion Leroux to Everyone: 09:35 PM

I have trouble speaking Spanish as a "natural" language in the classroom (like small words or reactions I only have in French, eg "ça suffit") do you have any advice?

From Lissa Cook to Everyone: 09:35 PM

@Marion - there's no budget at my school so I pay for private lessons with our TA in Spanish

From Glennis Pye to Everyone: 09:35 PM

What a great evening! Good luck everyone as you begin your NQT posts!

From Karin Jaschke to Everyone: 09:36 PM

Could you not perhaps run a 'lightly' themed session every week, like a drop in meeting where we can exchange experiences and ask questions?

From Marion Leroux to Everyone: 09:37 PM

Thank you so much for this, its really helpful

From Charlie to Everyone: 09:38 PM

Thank you for all the advice and inspiration. Drop in sessions sounds great.

From George Johnstone to Everyone: 09:37 PM

Thank you Verónica. Great advice!

From Grace Bentham to Everyone: 09:37 PM

It would be really helpful to have drop-in sessions!

Many thanks Veronica and to Lissa for sharing the Excel planner ! amazing evening

From Judith Rifesser to Everyone: 09:39 PM

Thank you everyone. NQTs, wishing you a fantastic start. Enjoy it and be patient with yourself and your colleagues, like you are with your pupils.

From Paula Hevia to Everyone: 09:40 PM

Thank you Judith! :)

From Marion Leroux to Everyone: 09:40 PM

Thank you you've all reassured me regarding what I've learnt during my two trimesters training

From Jennifer Eddy to Everyone: 09:40 PM

Wonderful learning from all of you. This is a terrific space for sharing! Thank you :)

From Manon Atangana to Everyone: 09:40 PM

Thanks a lot for this Verónica - it was very reassuring and made me feel excited for September!

From Corinna Schuck to Everyone: 09:41 PM

Thank you so much, it's been great and very useful!
perfect, thanks Helen

From Amandine Briand to Everyone: 09:41 PM

Merci beaucoup :) Have a lovely evening!
