

Celebrating Arabic Day 2025 at Al-Khair School!

Seloua Nedjai

I am thrilled to share the unforgettable experience from the 15th anniversary of the Arabic Day organised at Al-Khair School. This special day is dedicated to celebrating the rich and diverse Arabic culture and language, and it has become a cherished tradition within our school community.

This year, students participated in a variety of engaging workshops where Year 6 students took the lead in creating handmade crafts and selling them on the day. It was fantastic to see their entrepreneurial spirit come to life!

In addition, we had a storytelling session that captivated the young audience, bringing Arabic tales to life through enthusiastic narration. The Arabic games corner provided fun and interactive activities that allowed children to learn while playing, reinforcing their understanding of our cultural heritage.

We also set up a culture corner where children could wear traditional Arabic clothing and take pictures, creating lasting memories of this special day. I prepared fresh bread and delicious Algerian bghrir—thick crêpes characterized by their delightful little holes—enjoyed by all.

Witnessing the enthusiasm and participation of our students was heartwarming, and I am grateful for the support of our dedicated teachers and parents who contribute to making this event so memorable.

Looking forward to many more years of cultural celebration and the continuation of this meaningful event.
